

I am proud to offer my wholehearted endorsement of Rusty Grissom for Commissioner.

Over the years, I've had the privilege of coaching championship teams and working with leaders at every level. Success—whether on the football field or in public service—comes down to integrity, discipline, vision, and the ability to bring people together. Rusty Grissom embodies those qualities.

As someone who has spent a lifetime building teams and leading young men to reach their highest potential, I recognize true leadership when I see it. Rusty listens before he speaks, stands firm on his principles, and works tirelessly for the people he represents. He understands that leadership isn't about personal recognition—it's about service, accountability, and doing the right thing even when it's difficult.

During my career as head coach at the University of Oklahoma and in the NFL, I learned that strong leadership builds strong communities. Rusty approaches his role as Commissioner with that same team-first mindset. He is committed to fiscal responsibility, transparent governance, and making decisions that benefit families, businesses, and future generations.

Character matters. Trust matters. Results matter. Rusty Grissom has demonstrated all three.

I have no doubt he will continue to serve with dedication and honor. I encourage you to give him your full support and vote to re-elect Rusty Grissom.

Sincerely,
